COMMENTS:

This communication officially verifies that the named home school complies with the requirements of the General Statutes of North Carolina related to private elementary and secondary schools (G.S. 115C Article 39).

Consequently, the school is a legal home school. Parents/guardians of the enrolled students are fulfilling the requirements of the compulsory school attendance laws of the State of North Carolina. The Chief Administrator determines the curriculum and has the latitude to choose or develop the method of instruction for the academic program, as well as determine standards of student progress. By these actions the Chief Administrator fulfills the role of principal or superintendent of the school. Chief Administrators have the authority to determine student enrollment, issue grades, classify students, and issue final transcripts. Transcripts and diplomas from such schools are legal and valid.

The Division of Non-Public Education does not retain any academic records nor any other personal information regarding enrolled students. The chief administrator of this school is the sole source of any records for enrolled students. These records would include grades, attendance, transcripts and diplomas as well as more general information such as course of study and graduation requirements.

This form is null and void if the school operates only during the summer months.
